The 3-message AI SMS flow that gets 40%+ reply rates -- mode: reframe-led

EMAIL PREVIEW

Hey {{first_name}},

Confession:

Most of the leads {{business_name}} loses aren't lost to a competitor.

They're lost to silence after message one.

Here's the old way most service businesses text leads.

One message goes out. No reply in a day or two. The lead gets mentally filed under "not interested" and the conversation just... stops.

But a single text was never a system. It was one shot, hoping for a bullseye.

The AI Growth Engine runs it differently. Instead of one message, it's a 3-message sequence, spaced out automatically. Message one re-opens the conversation. Message two adds a reason to respond now instead of later. Message three makes the ask simple and direct: book the call. No one on your end has to remember who's owed a follow-up or when.

Here's the thing... We've watched this pattern play out across independent service businesses over and over. A lead goes quiet after the first text. Then message two or three lands, and suddenly they're replying like no time passed at all -- "sorry, been slammed, is Thursday still open?" The lead was never gone. They just needed a second and third nudge that a single text can't deliver on its own.

This works best if you're already texting leads at all. If outreach today is mostly phone tag and email, that's the piece to fix first -- this sequence is the layer on top of that, not a replacement for it.

P.S. -- this isn't a sales pitch, just 20 minutes to see if a structured follow-up sequence would actually move the needle for {{business_name}}.
