The AI tool that writes every follow-up message so you never have to -- mode: proof-story-led

EMAIL PREVIEW

Hey {{first_name}},

Quick confession: the most common reason a lead goes cold isn't price.

It's that nobody followed up.

Here's a scenario I see constantly.

A prospect fills out a form for a practice like {{business_name}}.

The owner means to reply after the last appointment of the day.

Then a no-show happens. Then a staff issue. Then it's Thursday.

By the time the message goes out, the lead has already booked somewhere else.

Look...

That isn't a discipline problem. It's a bandwidth problem.

The old way: you write every follow-up by hand, when you find time.

The AI Growth Engine way: AI drafts and sends each follow-up the moment a lead comes in -- in your voice, with their name, tied to what they actually asked about.

So...

The first reply goes out in minutes, not days.

The second and third follow-ups go out on schedule, without you remembering to send them.

You only step in when someone replies and is ready to book.

This works best for businesses that book 1:1 appointments -- if that's not you, feel free to skip this one.

P.S. -- this isn't a sales pitch, just a quick conversation to see if it's a fit.
